University of Oslo, Blindern-Oslo, Norway
Friday June 5, 2015

Ethical challenges in mental health care: the role of the family and clinical ethics support
- An international symposium -

08.30 Coffee, tea

09.00   Opening and welcome: Bert Molewijk (10 min; CME, UIO)

09.10   Introduction: ethical challenges in mental health care: Marit Helene Hem (15/5 min; CME/UIO)

09.30   Key note speaker: Hilde Lindemann (Michigan State University, USA): 'Facing Health Care from a Family Perspective.' (45 min)

10.15   Referee: Ethical challenges and family perspective in mental health care: Reidun Norvoll (15 min; CME, UIO)

10.30   Discussion related to presentations of Lindemann and Norvoll

10.45 Coffee, tea, fruit

11.00   Family care ethics in psychiatry. Towards a new epistemology: Elleke Landeweer (20/10 min; VUmc, NL)

11.30   European Panel: current clinical ethics support activities in mental health care
- Pre-structured presentations (10/5 min)
    - Which mechanisms for ethics support in mental health care exist in your country?
    - What are the aims and results of the ethics support mechanisms?
    - What kind of training and networks for ethics support staff exist (in mental health care)?
    - What is the normative status of the ethics support?
    - Additional question*: What kind of patient and family involvement exists within ethics support?*

    - Germany: Margarete Pfäfflin
    - Italy: Renzo Pergoraro
    - Switzerland: Dagmar Meyer
    - Sweden: Veikko Pelti-Piri

12.30 Lunch

13.30   … European Panel continued (10/5 min)
- Danmark: Henriette Bruun
- France: Nicolas Foureur
- Netherlands: Guy Widdershoven
- Norway: Reidar Pedersen

14.30   What it takes to implement CESS in Psychiatry. Experiences from the UPK Basel: Stella Reiter-Theil (Basel, Switzerland; 30/15 min)

15.15   Experiences with ethics reflection groups in Norwegian mental health care (20/10 min; CME/UIO)

15.45   Reflections about today and the future of ethics support in mental health care

16.00   Closure & farewell